LCPtracker's Daily Reporter is an advanced software module that allows Foremen and Field Superintendents to electronically submit daily reports of worker hours from any tablet or mobile device running iOS or Android operating systems directly from the field.

As a fully integrated add-on module to LCPtracker Pro, Daily Reporter ensures a higher level of accuracy by cross-checking the data collected on site with the hours reported on certified payroll reports. This eliminates the need for manual checks and ensures all workers are paid for actual hours worked.

In addition, Daily Reporter Mobile offers various user roles and allows each role to customize their view settings for optimal efficiency. The module also features auto-populated weather data based on geocode to eliminate the need for manual weather entries.

With all the robust features packed into this mobile application, the process of daily log submissions is streamlined and can be managed electronically - reducing the need to handle hardcopies, all while increasing overall administrative efficiency.
